Why the Open Data Portal?

“The benefits of the BRB establishing a presence on the Data Portal include increased availability of state and local debt data to the general public, state leadership, and bond finance community as well as increased communication with customers, decreased agency administrative costs, and improved agency efficiency such that maximum results are produced with a minimum waste of staff resources.”

2022 Biennial Performance Report

Advancing the Next Generation of Technology in Texas

Progress Snapshot

Over half of the state agencies responding to the IRDR reported moderate to significant alignment with the goals identified in the 2022-2026 State Strategic Plan.

Goal 1: Secure IT Service Delivery

Goal 2: Advanced Data Management

Goal 3: Strategic Digital Transformation

Goal 4: Proactive Approach to Emerging Technologies

2022-2026 State Strategic Plan

Accelerating the Next Generation of Technology in Texas

Introduction

Over the past biennium, Texans' demands for government services have increased as the COVID-19 pandemic changed how we live and work. The state has implemented the tools that facilitate digital transactions, and empowered a new generation of data analytics, and empowered a new generation of transactions.

While the pandemic highlighted public service challenges, it also accelerated modernizing technology. Texas agencies are working to provide secure, reliable, constantly-connected services to citizens.

The 2022-2026 State Strategic Plan identifies actionable objectives for the state to meet these challenges and provide a high level of service to citizens.

Technology can transform how the state provides services. State resources can help state leaders prepare for the future.

The Texas Department of Information Resources is committed to deliver the next level of service and support to the state.

“Internal customers save time with self-serve, anytime access. Requesters spend less time formulating requests and other staff have fewer data reports they have to provide.

The same benefits apply to the school, state agency, and non-profit partners. Directly accessing data instead of submitting a PIR streamlines their work and gives them access to more data. Partners can be more nimble in their decision making. More data means more options for finding needs and opportunities for community impact.”
